TOWN CRIER - WILMINGTON, MASS. SEPTEMBER 5, 1963

PRICE 10 CENTS

PLAN RESCINDING PART OF

BALLARDVALE STREET TAKING

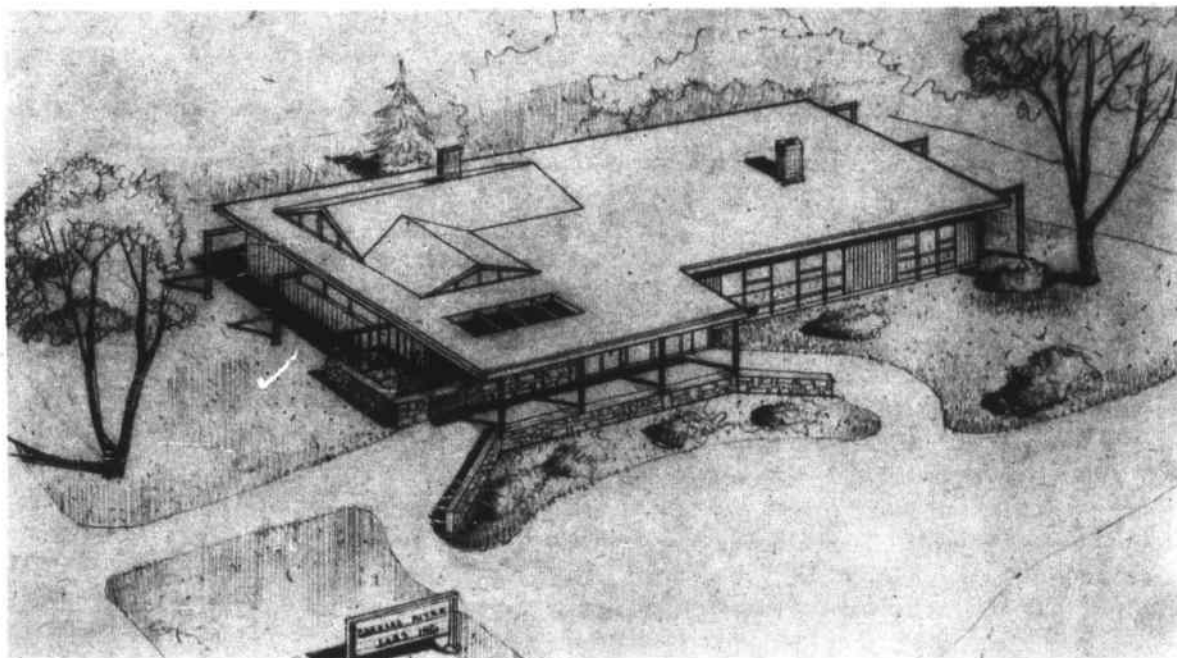

Town Manager Jerry Bouchard is going to ask the County Commissioners to rescind a part of the 'taking' of Ballardvale Street, for Chapter 90 work.

The County Commissioners, last year, took land adjoining the road in Wilmington, as the first step in the process which would have made a 50 foot wide road of the now country lane, with part of the road in Middlesex County and part in Essex County.

Since then the Selectmen have 'discovered' theirs and the previous Town Manager's error, and voted to construct Ballardvale St only so far as is feasible in Wilmington. That part which lies partly in Wilmington and partly in Andover is to be constructed on a less pretentious basis, using Town funds only.

Bouchard stated yesterday that the suit by two land owners, for land about 1500 feet north of the planned present terminus of the Chapter 90 work was caused by the taking of the Commissioners, last year, and he hopes that when the rescinding action has taken place there will be no basis for a suit by the two estates.

NEW OFFICE BUILDING FOR CHARLES RIVER BREEDING LABS, now being erected on Ballardvale Street.

The company, which was founded in 1947 by Dr Henry Foster, has been having its laboratories in Wilmington since 1951, and its head office in Brookline. Now all offices are to be in Wilmington with the completion of the new building, sometime this fall.

The new office will be about three times larger than the present office building, and will have a full cellar room for conferences. The outside of the building is to be of red cedar.

There are now 120 employees of the Charles River Breeding Labs, with Sumner Foster being Vice President, and Garnet Mills of Westdale Avenue the General Manager.

The Fitzmaurice Construction Co. of Wilmington is the builder.

JIM DUNN OF DUNN'S BICYCLE SHOP, 76 Washington Street, Reading, is one of the best bicycle repairmen in the area.

Someone told him about the Town Crier, several years ago, and he has advertised in it consistently, ever since. It has brought him, he reports, hundreds of fine and satisfied customers.

He has tried other kinds of advertising too, but finds that the best is in paid circulation newspapers.

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

The murder which was reported on the front page of this paper, last week, was committed elsewhere, and the Boston Police have announced that they have a confession from a man who was arrested within 48 hours of the finding of the body.

The interesting thing, in one respect, was not the murder, which was quite sordid, but the way in which certain newspapers handled it.

A Boston tabloid, which features sex and horse races, had three reporters write a story guaranteed to raise the prurient interest of morons, on details that never happened.

And the Lowell daily, which has a motto of always protecting local officials, whether or not those officials need protection, went into great details on how a certain Wilmington official did this and did that. It took several paragraphs of the story.

But that official was on a well deserved fishing trip, and didn't get back to town until hours after the body had been removed!

SO NICKY WAS YELLING AGAIN

Selectman Nicholas De Felice doesn't realize it, but he has an awful tendency to yell during the executive meetings of the Board of Selectmen, and Tuesday night was no exception to the rule.

The meeting, which was not only executive, but was "informal", i.e. not even a meeting, and not posted, as the law directs, was for the purpose of hearing Rene LaRivee's thoughts on industrial expansion.

Mr LaRivee had some good ideas, but he didn't get far, between Nicky's yelling and the efforts of John Brooks to tangle Rene up.

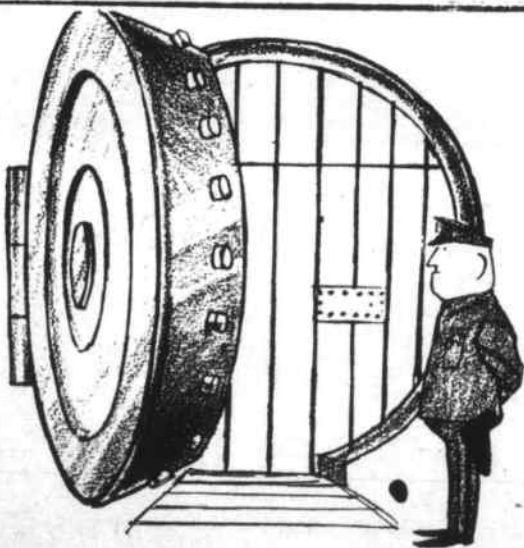

The meeting broke up after 11 pm.

THE VIGILANT DOZEN HAVE BEEN DOZING

When Jerry Bouchard first arrived in Wilmington, last spring, it was to have a dozen or so interested citizens crowd into the Selectmen's meeting room, to hear what was going on.

The same persons attended Planning Board meetings, and other meetings, and we dubbed them the Vigilant Dozen.

It may have been these people who inspired Jerry to tear down the partition between his office and the Selectmen's room, and make one big teak paneled office out of the two, and also let the boards other than Selectmen meet in the cellar. The cost, we understand, was somewhere about $2,000, plus a few bruised feelings on the part of other officials than the Selectmen.

Whether or not the Vigilant Dozen were the inspiring motif, the point is that they seem to be dozing at the present time. Perhaps they are no longer interested.

There hasn't been one member of the group at any meeting for over a month now.

NOT THIS TIME

A current headline is a charge by a New York Congressman that Massachusetts is a "Gamblers' Paradise".

Last week some Internal Revenue agents, in Revere, told a similar story to some organization, and it made front page news.

To the people of Massachusetts this is almost Ho Hum news - they know it, but they can not do much about it.

The surprising thing to Wilmington people is that Wilmington is not mentioned in the stories - not that it deserves mention, but that it has been wrongly so labeled in the past.

A few years ago Wilmington was reputed, in one sensational expose, to be the center of a large organized ring.

There was no truth in the story - it originated in the fact that the ring had an Oliver telephone number, but with the telephone being in Tewksbury.

Today, in so far as this paper knows, there isn't one single "bookie" in this town.

TOWN NOTES

August

August was a dry month, especially after the searing month of July. The Boston Globe is reporting that this summer is the fourth driest on record - and inasmuch as the Wilmington records do not go back as far as the records to which the Globe has access, we shall have to take the Globes's word for it, and assume that it is the same in Wilmington.

But rainfall isn't always the same, in the state, or even in a town, as for instance last Saturday.

There was a fairly good rainfall along Route 93 from Concord St. to the Reading line, and a little in some other parts of town, mostly in North Wilmington, while along Adams Street and Roman Way there wasn't a drop.

The Pumping Station at Brown's Crossing recorded .04 inch of rain with hail, thunder & lightning.

All told for the month of August there was 2.61 inches of rain at the Brown's Crossing station, and more or less in the rest of the town.

The beach at Silver Lake, - well that was a different story in August.

In the hot month of July, with a good humidity, there wasn't enough room to stand, almost, at the Town Beach.

In August, with the winds coming out of the Northwest most of the time, there was plenty of room. There were times when only a dozen bathers could be seen at one time, upon the town's sands.

Missing Doors

As most of our readers know, the Rev. Joel T Underwood is the assistant pastor at the Methodist Church, and he comes from Tennessee.

He lives in the 'second parish house' (for want of a better name) beside the church, on Church St. and he is attending Boston University, studying for a Master's degree in Theology. Mrs Underwood is teaching (her first year in the art) in the North School.

Before the Underwood family moved into their new home, this past summer, a group of laymen in the Methodist Church got together and fixed up the interior, very nicely. It was washed and papered and everything, just right for an aspiring student with a family.

Someone even took down all the closet doors, presumably to make them 'hang' better.

The doors haven't been seen yet by the Underwood family, and we presume that the good parson includes, in his evening prayers, an intercession to the Lord, to please do something about those doors.

What Sticker?

It would seem that one of Wilmington's Gendarmes almost had a Wilmington driver for driving without a sticker, yesterday morning, on Main Street.

He spotted said Wilmington gent, who has requested that his name be withheld, on Main Street, and there was no familiar green 'sticker' on the lower left windshield. So of course the errant motorist was stopped and informed of the Law of

But - our motoring friend had just left Mel Southmayd's a few minutes before, and instead of the green sticker he had one of the brand new Fall of 1963 Brand!

We suspect that there was a considerable amount of pride and joy in the motorist's heart as he drove off and left a crestfallen Gendarme behind him.

Anyway, that cop knows what the new stickers look like!

Highest Taxes

The somewhat dubious distinction of having the highest assessments, taxwise, in Wilmington, goes to the merchants who own property in Wilmington Square, on the east side of Main Street, between Church Street and Middlesex Avenue.

What hurts most though, in the eyes of some of them, is the fact that they not only pay at the highest rates, for everything including parking lots used by the public, but if they pave those parking lots they have to pay an additional tax for the paving!

Sartorial Note

A goodly part of the older residents of Wilmington know Alice and Leonard Chisholm of Hopkins Street as good substantial citizens who have no particular pretensions but are always the kind of people who will come through in a pinch.

For ten years they have loyally supported the Little League Indians and now this year the Indians won the Little League Pennant, which is somewhat of a reward.

So Manager and Coach of the team got together, and had a barbecue for the Indians, a week or so ago, at the home of Coach Eddie Sullivan, on Grove Avenue.

We do not know who was the Master Chef, but we suspect it was George Simmons of Strout Ave. who was the Manager of the team.

Anyway Alice and Lenny brought down a cake, a pretty big one for the boys, laid out in the form of a baseball diamond.

And if that wasn't enough, Mrs Austin Rounds of Butters Row brought another. Her son Donny was the star pitcher of the team, won 8 and lost 0.

So there was plenty for the boys to feast on, and they probably did not notice the real feature of the evening.

Lenny Chisholm was wearing a necktie!

It was perhaps the first time in the memory of living man that the genial owner of the Indians had ever appeared so attired!

Dog Gone Coincidence

Rural Mail Carrier Bob Maloney of North Wilmington has a tale to tell - or seeing it is about two dogs we should maybe say two tales Bob owns a Shephard dog.

Last week he was up to the Amoco station, near the railroad crossing on Main Street, and he spotted his dog. He called to it, motioned to the car, and the dog very nicely got in and made him self at home.

But when Bob got home there was his dog on the front lawn. The two dogs looked exactly alike, and, dog-wise, they were soon tangling with each other in an effort to find out who was the better dog.

Bob and Mrs Maloney had a job getting them apart, but then the dogs became more friendly.

But they couldn't tell which dog was which. They were exactly the same!

Only by comparing the dog licenses on the collar could the Maloneys find out which was their dog, and which was the stranger.

The other dog, incidentally, was the property of Henry Flight of Shawsheen Avenue, and it turned out that both dogs were of the same litter.

Tire Note

The latest joke (?) to be making the rounds of Wilmington, and it seems to have originated here, concerns auto tires.

The joke says that if you choose to be a proponent of Integration you can show your sympathies by having three white-wall tires for your car in combination with one black wall.

Joe Day's Reason

The newest English teacher in Wilmington High School is Joseph P Day of 36 School Street, Woburn.

Mr Day used to teach in the Woburn schools, but he transferred to Wilmington for a reason.

The reason: Joe wants to run for the City Council in Woburn, and he doesn't want any one to charge that he might have a possible Conflict of Interest, if he should be elected.

Draftee Letter

Officers in the US Army, or other armed services of the US receive from the Secretary of Defense a nice Commission, written in language that pleases, attesting to the confidence placed in the individual by the Secretary of Defense.

Young men who get drafted also receive a nicely written letter, attesting to their need, and starting, as is well known, with the word Greetings.

But Jim Demos of Hopkins St. can top all the experiences of his fellow townsmen.

Jim, who is a teacher in, we believe, the Billerica Schools, was back in Greece, the place of his birth, for a visit, this summer.

He received a letter, written, of course, in Greek, drafting him into the Greek Army.

Nothing like being drafted in a Classical Language. It beats Latin all hollow, says Jim, - and as for English: ---

BOARD OF APPEALS
DECISIONS

The Board of Appeals, Tuesday night, handed down a decision in favor of Frank and Geraldine De Marco, 253A Middlesex Ave. to allow them to add to their home, in a non-conforming district. The appeal was heard on August 6th.

Also approved was an appeal by the Stevens Family Trust, (Webtex) to allow the underground storage in tanks of four types of inflammables Methyl-Ethyl Kelone, Hexane, Toluene and Denatured Alcohol, in 5000 gallon tanks.

The board noted that 'This type of industry, with the proper safeguards, located in an industrial zone, is in harmony with the intent and purpose of the law.'

CHARGERS FIRST HOME GAME SATURDAY

Fresh from their 19 - 6 victory over the Windsor Locks (Conn.) Rams, Sunday, the Chargers of Wilmington will face the South Boston Chippewas on the Wilmington High School Field Saturday at 8pm with a postponement date of Sunday at the same time, in the event of rain.

The Chargers broke the ice last Sunday in the person of Joe Casey former Wilmington High School center, who picked up a fumbled ball in the first quarter and ran fifty yards for a touchdown. Bob Brown of Billerica made a perfect kick through the bars for an extra point.

Joe Casey

Center and Line Backer for the Wilmington Chargers, and an outstanding player from Wilmington High School

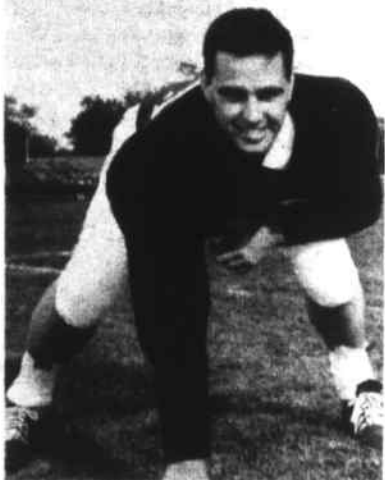

Frank Pignone of Stoneham made the second touchdown possible with a 30 yard off tackle sweep to the 2 yard line, where No. Reading's Bill Cotter took over for the plunge.

The third touchdown was set up by a 15 yard pass from QB Karl Jenkins to RE Lou Thomasello of Malden, from the Chargers four yard line.

A 33 yard stamper by Cotter, a 40 yard pass from Jenkins to Bob Lawrence of Manchester NH, and a 8 yard plunge by Pignone put the ball over the line for the third touchdown.

Windsor's lone scorer was by Capt Bill Stone of the Rams, who made a 65 yard dash down the side line, after picking up a fumble, in the last minutes of the second quarter.

Brian Mulligan

From Westford. Played for Michigan State. One of the best guards in the New England Conference, he is 5 ft 10 and tips the scales at 205 Brian, on the field, is just plain mean.

Probable Starting lineup: RE Charlie Martin (No. Reading) RT Bob Brown (Billerica) RG Brian Mulligan (Westford) C Joe Casey (Wilmington) LG Bob Ellis (Billerica) LT Eddie Del Torto (Tewksbury) LE Bob Lawrence (Manchester NH) QB Karl Jenkins (Malden) RH Frank Pignone (Stoneham) LH Bill Cotter (No. Reading) and FB Lionel Baldwin (Wilmington).

OAK LEAF CLUSTER FOR A SOLDIER: Lt. Donald W Farham of Wilmington receives the Oak Leaf Cluster, to his Air Medal, from Lt. General Paul W Caraway, at Fort Buckner, in Japan, for participating in over 25 combat flights as a helicopter pilot in Vietnam last fall.

Army 1st Lt. Donald W Farnham, 23, son of Mr and Mrs Robert S Farnham, 12 Wildwood Street, who has been twice decorated for Combat Patrols in Vietnam, as a helicopter pilot, was one of the American soldiers responsible for saving many lives when the ferryboat Midori Maru capsized off Okinawa on August 17th.

The disaster occurred the day after Lt Farnham had received the Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal from Lt Gen. Paul W Caraway, commander of the US Army IX Corps.

Helicopters from the US Army Ryuku Islands Flight Section answered a request from the US Air Force Defense Control at Naha Air Base for assistance in rescuing survivors of the ferry boat disaster.

The four Army helicopters at Hamby Field were called at 6 pm and by 7:30 pm were on the scene of the disaster, rescuing the ill-fated passengers. They continued rescue operations until 11 pm, evacuating 31 persons to the medical facilities at Naha Air Base.

Major Clement A Wyllie Jr., commander of Hamby Air Field credited the four helicopters with being first on the scene, and with making 50% of the rescues. The operations were resumed next morning and continued for another 12 hours. Helicopters used were one UH-1A (6 passenger) and three CH-21s (20 passenger).

Lt Farnham, a 1957 graduate of Wilmington High School, is married to the former Betty Small of Middlesex Avenue. Mrs Farnham is with her husband on Okinawa.

NICKERSON HAS RESIGNED FROM PLANNING BOARD

Herbert W Nickerson of Marle Drive submitted his resignation as a member of the Wilmington Planning Board to TM Gerald Bouchard yesterday.

A Sanitary Engineer, and former Professor of Sanitary Engineering at Tufts University, Mr Nickerson finds that his duties as Northeast District Sanitary Engineer for the Commonwealth demand too many evenings to be able to stay with the Planning Board.

Bouchard stated that he has a number of names of persons who may be possible successors to Mr Nickerson, but that he has as yet made no decision.

READING AREA REACHES
NEW HIGHBy Robert E. Stewart, Pres.
Mechanics-Savings Bank

In July, the 3-town Reading area reached $352,000 in new home construction as follows (with July 1962 figures in parentheses): North Reading $48,000 ($46,000); Reading $150,000 ($120,500) and Wilmington $154,000 ($134,450). The 7-month totals are: North Reading $475,750 ($766,000); Reading $833,200 ($430,000) and Wilmington $786,800 ($877,970). Area to date $2,095,750 ($2,083,970). In July additions, alterations and repairs came to $40,480 in all three towns ($41,600 a year ago) and total deeds and mortgages 190 (153 a year ago).

LITTLE LEAGUE TO CONDUCT FUND RAISING PROJECT IN NORTH SCHOOL

The School Board, last night, gave permission to the Wilmington Little League to use the North School on October 18th to conduct a fund raising project for a new fence around the Little League Park in Rotary Park.

The program, which will consist of a 'Penny Sale' is to be conducted in the evening, and close by 11:30.

Joe Paglia and other Little League officials told the School Board that they intend to erect a link fence entirely around the new Little League park, for safety and for other reasons.

'ON THE NOSE'

The Wilmington School Board, last night, voted to compliment Supervisor Robert Barrett of the teaching staff, and his assistants for predicting the 1963 enrollment of pupils as closely as he did.

Mr Barrett was only 5 pupils out, on his prediction of opening day, which fact, Supt of School Harold Shea said, was remarkable.

Barrett preferred to use the figures of new homes of five years ago, and supplemented these figures with the record of births of six years ago, rather than to depend solely on the birth record, Shea reported, and he thought the results were remarkable.

3881 pupils reported for school yesterday, and 3886 had been predicted.

Shea noted that the earlier prediction of 'an extra first class' came true, and the children were in the Swain School.

Very little transferring will have to be made, Shea said. He expected to transfer a few fourth grade pupils from the Center to the Walker School, there being 36 fourth graders at the Center and 27 in the Walker.

Shea reported that he expects upwards of another 25 youngsters additional to report in the second day of school, including perhaps 10 first graders. There were 490 first graders yesterday, and he expects 500 or more today.

Snow Bird's terrific performance in all types of snow, wet, dry, or crusted is the reason why Snow Bird remains unmatched by other snow removers. Only Snow Bird has the three basic essentials necessary for removing all types of snow, and the exclusive, fully adjustable chute that aims the snow any direction you choose, from 4 to 40 feet away. Fully winterized Briggs & Stratton engine has easy-spin starting. Self-propelled forward and reverse power makes it easy to let one Snow Bird do the work of many, many men!

SNOW-BIRD

POWER SNOW REMOVER

EASY START ENGINE—The powerful Briggs & Stratton engine—4 h.p. or 6 h.p.—is fully enclosed and snowproofed, to assure dependable starting and operation in winter conditions.

NON-DEFLECTING CHUTE—Flow of snow through the chute is never restricted or deflected, because of the unique chute design. This enables you to blow the snow in ANY direction, and up to 30 feet. You can put the snow where you want it—far away from the area you are clearing, or down at the side of the Snow-Bird.

FORWARD AND REVERSE POWER—No need to worry about tight spots. No tugging or pulling. Just touch the handy reverse shift, and the Snow-Bird backs out, with plenty of power to spare!

REMOVES DRIFTS • SNOWBANKS—The big, powerful rotating augers of the Snow-Bird dig right into the highest drifts and snowbanks, removing snow deeper than the machine itself.

JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT

PROGRAM APPROVED

The Wilmington School Committee, last night, unanimously voted to approve the Junior Achievement Program, proposed for 11th and 12th grade pupils by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce.

The program, which is under the overall supervision of the state organization, Junior Achievement of Massachusetts, Inc.

School Supt. Harold Shea told the School Board that the program would 'fill a hole' in extra-curricular activities for 11th and 12th graders who do not go in for sports, school clubs or such things as acting.

High School Principal Bernard McMahon reported that one afternoon period, later in September, would be devoted to a movie program by the sponsors, but that no other school time or equipment would be used.

As proposed, the Wilmington
Chamber of Commerce will assist youngsters to set up a small corporation, which will sell stock at 50¢ a share, but no more than 4 shares to any individual, and then proceed to conduct a business which must be liquidated by the next May 1.

The corporation could go into types of manufacture or other business (leatherworking, for instance) and at the end of the year distribute

HOW MANY YEARS BEHIND THOSE BLACK HAIRLOCKS AND THAT UNWRINKLED BROW? That is the secret of Ralph Allen, Master Barber of North Wilmington Center.

Some day, in the far far distant future, after Ralph Allen has had about 17 celebrations for his 65th birthday, he will begin to admit that he might be approaching 70 years of age.

But until that day arrives the real age of the Barber of the North Wilmington Center is going to be a deep dark secret.

Ralph will admit that he has been cutting hair for 17 years, that he worked for Adrian Durkee, down in Wilmington Center nine years, and that he cut John Ella's hair when that gentleman was still a school boy.

But he will not admit to more than 22 summers.

Which means that perhaps John Ella was a school boy in the diaper class, or that Ralph has done a lot of travelling to places, so that he could dodge a few summers.

Ralph however does have a few claims to fame, even if his age is a question of the kind that cannot be answered.
